welcome

Dear colleagues,

Academician Nicolae Cajal Symposium of the Romanian Medical Sciences Academy will once again take place at the Romanian Academy Library.

The answer to the greatest questions in oncology, in organ transplant or in heart diseases lies within fundamental research laboratories, and the discoveries made in these laboratories must be made available to those who are suffering as soon as possible. Every year, Academician Nicolae Cajal Symposium offers Romanian and foreign teams of specialists the opportunity to communicate their latest results, compare them to international results which may constitute future development projects.

We remain firmly convinced that the discoveries in fundamental research belong to the young generations and we wish to create the right circumstances for them to occur, which is why we encourage the participation of young doctors and students, as we have done every year.

We are certain that this year Symposium will represent, just like in the previous years, progress in understanding medicine and translational research, and we look forward to see you!

Acad. Prof Irinel Popescu, PhD

President of the Romanian Medical Sciences Academy
Co-chair of the Organising Committee

Esteemed colleagues,

On behalf of the Organising Committee, I have the honour and pleasure to invite you to the 13th edition of the “Academician Nicolae Cajal” Symposium.

Cajal Foundation, created in 2004 by Dr. Irina Cajal, daughter of Nicolae Cajal (1919-2004) - renowned physician, teacher and man of state, supports medical scientific research dedicated to the prevention and treatment of diseases which have a major impact on public health. The Foundation supports initiatives which increase the credibility of medical discoveries and the efforts to make these accessible in clinical practice.

Amongst the projects promoted by the Medical Sciences Academy, a highly valued place is taken by the collaboration between clinicians and researchers in the biomedical field, in order to identify new potential therapeutic targets, to develop transdisciplinary preclinical models and to establish clinical trials. In this context, the aim of the Symposium will be to develop a platform to extend the collaboration between the laboratory and the clinic.

I wish you a fruitful scientific reunion and we look forward to as many of you as possible at the event!
